

The Mining Society of Nova Scotia 123rd Annual General Meeting

June 10th & 11th, 2010

Keltic Lodge Resort and Spa
Ingonish Beach, Cape Breton, NS

Originally founded in 1887 as the “Gold Miners’ Club of Nova Scotia”, The Mining Society of Nova Scotia was the first professional mining association in Canada. In 1892, prompted by a threatened royalty on coal, the mining industry of Nova Scotia closed ranks and the Gold Miners’ Club became The Mining Society of Nova Scotia. Active in the province for 123 years, the society has continuously represented and promoted the interests of exploration, mining, metallurgy, petroleum and related industries in Nova Scotia.
